For as long as I can remember, I have had a passion to work with animals. I simply believe that I was created this way. I have a deep respect for them, I love them, appreciate who they are and understand them. Every animal deserves that, sometimes even the human kind.

Have you ever looked into the eyes of a dog or cat that has been abused?? What do their eyes tell you? They tell you a story.

This is where my story begins. When I was a child growing up I witnessed animal abuse. The kind of abuse, that is so horrific that it changes you as a person. Being a little girl who loved and adored animals, this was a struggle for me to witness. To this day, I will not watch a movie of any kind that has animals in it. I am afraid something awful will happen.

Having been a Foster Mom to many doggies in my adult life I have had the opportunity to be a part of a C-Section and help breath for 9 little puppies that could not yet breath on their own, I have helped a Wildlife organization in the raising of a fawn, whose mother was killed on the road, I have helped the Columbus Zoo rescue a mother Mallard and a lot of ducklings from a sewer pipe along the side of a busy road and the list goes on....

I started my pet sitting business to help other animals cope while their owners are not home. So many of our pets have separation anxiety and or simply need to be cared for by administering medication for an ailment. My company allows the Professional pet sitter to come to your home and care for your pets when you can't be there. This helps ease the stress for them while you are away.

I am certified in Pet First Aid and CPR and have been trained in rescue efforts in both Wildlife and Domestic animals. I specialize in pets that have been abused. My life, needless to say has been an adventure thus far with many chapters. A lot of those chapters have not yet been written. The chapters yet to come are a Pet Bakery and a Rescue organization of my own.
