

Women's Leadership Conference Premiering in Dayton

Leaders from the tri-state (Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky) are gathering to attend the Women in Business Networking Leadership Conference. The full day leadership conference will be held on June 17, 2009 at Sinclair Community College in Dayton, OH.

Apr 21, 2009 – Women from the tri-state area are invited to attend the Women in Business Networking Leadership Conference to be held on June 17, 2009 at Sinclair Community College from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The Women in Business Networking Leadership Conference is a day-long gathering of women in leadership for education, motivation and inspiration. All women business leaders are invited, including CEOs, business owners, executives and managers from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Attendees attend several group seminar sessions as well as break out series and a panel discussion, while networking with their peers.

The agenda includes a morning keynote address from Sharon Rab, the founder of the Dayton Literary Peace Prize. Lunch will be served on site while Donna Spiegel, the owner of The Snooty Fox addresses the group. The afternoon session will be conducted by Amelia Rodriguez, President and CEO of Vocalink Language Services.

There are also two break-out sessions lead by accomplished business women on a variety of topics including:

- Making Public Relations Work
- Smart Risk Taking
- Becoming a Respected Leader
- Building a Leadership Legacy
- Dressing like a Leader
- Speaking to be Heard

The conference ends with a Women of Success Panel, featuring seven independent business owners who share their advice on success and leadership.

An exhibitor area will be feature tabletop presentations from several tri-state businesses. It can also be used for informal networking before, during and after the event.

Women can register online at www.wibnleadership.com. The early bird rate of $99 is valid through May 1st, 2009.